“ I sure could use you right now pop.....almost 2 years now and not a day goes by that Bree doesn't mention you or I think about you and wish you were still around...I hope somehow someway you can feel the love and I truly believe Bree and I will see you again....I sincerely love you as a father and a person and it breaks my heart to know I'm letting you down...I'm trying to take care of her and do the right things but sometimes I just don't know what that is....I'm definitely not s strong as you but I'm not going to stop trying or walk away until I know without a doubt that she is ok...we did have a good laugh though about the time you caught me in the closet and I had to jump out of that dang window....you were so amused that it was hard for you to be mad....you never did push me away even in all of our craziness at the beginning, or when you when you would find me in strange places like the closet lol...I really miss you....I can't even begin to tell you how much Bree misses you. You were undoubtedly her superhero and you could do no wrong no matter what and nothing you could ever do would ever change that for her...I know you hear her where she's at and me where I'm at and I could really use your help right now....until I see you again I promise not to hide in anymore closets or under anymore piles of clothes and always drive in the middle...the best father/father in law anyone could ever have “ Faye, I am so, so sorry to hear of your loss. Please know that you are in my thoughts and prayers. I won't be able to attend the visitation, but will be thinking about you. I know there is nothing anyone can do, but you are loved by many.
