

Deborah Bailey Parsons

July 6, 1959 - March 28, 2026

Deborah Bailey Parsons, 66, of Springville, Alabama passed away on March 28, 2026 after a long battle with cancer. Debbie dedicated her entire career to serving as a teacher's aide, a role she cherished deeply. She found great joy in working within the school system and took comfort in being close to her children throughout their early years.

She was known for her extraordinary generosity, never allowing anyone around her to go without. Giving and caretaking came naturally to her, and this selflessness was one of her most defining and beautiful qualities. She had a deep love for travel, especially cruising, and a passion for the theater, both of which she lovingly passed on to her children, instilling in them a lifelong appreciation for each.

Above all, she was a devoted and loving Nana, the very best her grandchildren could have ever hoped for. She poured her heart into each of them, filling their lives with encouragement, generosity and unconditional love that will be treasured forever.

Debbie is preceded in death by her husband of 44 years, Jimmy; parents, James and Betty (Blackwell) Bailey. She is survived by her daughter, Marceline Harchuck (Jason); daughter, Chelsie Woods (Olivia); son, James Parsons (Kelly); 4 grandchildren, Evelyn, Conrad, Annie and Owen; and her brothers Donald, David and Daniel.

Her love and kindness touched the lives of everyone around her and her absence is deeply felt.

The family would like to express their deepest gratitude to Dr. Matthew Tucker and his team at Alabama Oncology for their compassionate care throughout Debbie's journey, and to Kayla Rosas and Briana Macon with ProHealth Hospice, who went above and beyond in providing extraordinary kindness, comfort, and support.
