“ Thinking about my “Uncle” (actually a 2nd cousin) Doug today... some of the happiest times were spent with him and my dad on the dock fishing , he was always prepared with cherry popsicles and an over the top personality that is insanely hard to describe , but you only know it as Doug and everyone knows what you’re talking about .

His bold and unapologetic eccentricities were just such a huge facet of his personality. At any family event he would be there with a camera in hand for pictures and videos... those are now some of my most prized possessions. Memories of everyone here and those of who have gone before him. From tracing down all the McWhorter genealogy to stories of his time working on the trains there was always a story to be told.

I’ll definitely miss him ❤️ and I hope that his loved ones know how much he meant to us.
