

Elwin Roy Chamblee

January 8, 1955 - July 31, 2025

Elwin Roy Chamblee, 70, passed away on July 31, 2025, in Ashville, Alabama. Born on January 8, 1955, in Birmingham, Alabama, Elwin lived a life marked by dedication to his work, love for his family, and a spirited sense of humor that left lasting impressions on those around him.

Elwin devoted over three decades of his life to his career in maintenance, working for 18 years at Princeton Hospital and another 15 years at Amerex Corporation. His strong work ethic and commitment were evident throughout his professional life, earning the respect of colleagues and friends alike.

He is lovingly remembered by his wife, Evelyn Chamblee; his daughter, Wendy Lovell (Jason); his sisters; and many cousins, nieces, and nephews. Elwin was preceded in death by his parents, Leroy and Louise Chamblee, and his brother, Stevie Chamblee.

Outside of work and family life, Elwin found joy in simple pleasures. He loved riding his Harley through the open roads of Alabama, casting a line while fishing on quiet waters, collecting knives with care and curiosity, and tending to his yard with pride. Known as a jokester and prankster with a big heart, he brought laughter into every room he entered. His playful spirit was matched only by the deep love he held for those closest to him.

The family extends heartfelt gratitude to Gentiva Hospice for their compassionate care during Elwin's final months.

May the memory of Elwin Roy Chamblee bring comfort to all who knew him.

“ One day me and Roy were working on a machine and he told me a story about him and his dad. He told me to take care of my tools and clean them after each use. That was a lesson his dad taught him. He said that one day his dad found a wrench in the yard and he got in trouble for it. The story is better in his words but I think about it often.
