“ As a young child, Jack (Jackie) and I were best friends. Our Mothers were close friends also. During the Summer, we would talk on the phone (landlines) and decide if we were playing at his house or mine. Both Moms were great cooks and bakers. We made our play date decision based on which Mom we thought was having the best lunch that day! Those days together were spent roaming in the forrest near our homes. We built forts, played in the dirt and rode toy vehicles around the back patio at Jackie's house. A wonderful memory.

We never really thought about the fact that I was three years older and a GIRL ---- Until all of a sudden our Mom's told us we could no longer sleep in the same bed at sleepovers. It was a mystery for US!

I will miss my Dear Sweet Friend.
