“ I'm so thankful that I called her a few weeks ago! It was truly a gift. She updated me on all the members of the family. She never told me how sick she was. We talked a long time and her voice sounded great. She was so precious to me. I remember her totally in her sports bra, leggings and a tan!!! She was awesome! She was in her 60's and looked 30 years younger. She still wore a bikini at the beach and looked amazing. A strong Christian woman that was such a great role model. Thank you Lord for having me call her a few weeks ago. I will miss her so much. I tried to fix her up with my dad so she'd be my stepmother. That's how much I loved her
