“ I know it has taken me a long time to post something about Kat, it's been very difficult realizing I will not have another chance to spend time with my very dear friend. I came across a journal she gave me for my birthday in 2017 and inside was the card she sent with it. It was beautiful just like her. It perfectly described the kind of friends we were. Few and far between you find a friend and it feels like you've known each other forever. That is what we shared. A very special friendship. I will always cherish her. I miss you.....💜
