“ Bebe and I were close friends in high school although she was a year younger than me. I always regretted the fact that I never had occasion to see her after my graduation in 1957 encountering her only as one of her friends on Facebook in later years. However, my memory of her was that of a fun-loving and beautifully spirited young lady. That's the memory of her that I will carry forward and I know that heaven has gained a new resident that I look forward to seeing once again when this veil of tears here has ended.
